

NEIMAN MARCUS

NBA DRAFT CAMPAIGN CASE STUDY

Neiman Marcus

THE CHALLENGE

Further expand Neiman Man's customer base while also bolstering customer allegiance by showcasing Neiman Marcus as a prime fashion destination for men.

THE SOLUTION

Leverage the massive social magnitude of the NBA Draft by dressing four high-profile picks for the biggest night of their lives.

CAMPAIGN OVERVIEW

By partnering Neiman Marcus with four high profile picks, including first overall pick Cade Cunningham, Talent Resources Sports was able to develop an extensive social media program centered around one of the most important days on the international sports calendar to further connect the worlds of sports and fashion.

Connecting with personal style advisors, the talent selected a variety of looks from casual to professional, all of which was highlighted on their respective social media pages. TRS was therefore able to bring Neiman Marcus directly in the eyes of their target audience by leveraging the talent's noteworthy followings and powerful engagement rates.

Top NBA pick Cade Cunningham wants to be the next LeBron James in business

With his draft slot, he'll get a multiyear contract worth over $40 million to start his pro career. On the endorsement front, he agreed to terms with Nike on Tuesday and worked in a pact with luxury department store Neiman Marcus, which dressed him for the draft event.
